e-Learning: AMNOG briefly and concisely

Aims and objectives

Are you expected to contribute data for the German benefit dossier or become involved in the German AMNOG process?

This e-Learning provides you with a solid understanding of dossier preparation and the overall procedure - from the first interaction with the G-BA to the reimbursement price negotiation.

After completing this e-Learning, you will understand the procedural steps and be familiar with the fundamental principles of benefit dossier preparation, including its practical hurdles and challenges.

The e-Learning was fully updated in October 2025 and made available in English with AI-assisted translation.

Who should attend?

This e-Learning is designed for anyone seeking an initial insight into the AMNOG procedure. It covers both the data and the process level. No prior HTA/AMNOG knowledge is required; however, a basic understanding of the German healthcare system is helpful.

The principle

The e-learning program consists of several didactically structured learning modules. These include expert videos, graphics and explanatory texts, podcast elements, and practical exercises. In this way, you will become familiar with the regulatory requirements and their practical implementation.

Each module concludes with a learning assessment. Once you have completed all modules and successfully passed the assessments, you will receive a qualifying certificate, which you can conveniently print out yourself.
